A MAD RUSH FOR LAND.

A Lincoln County Man Takes Part and Tells How It Was Done.

(To the Editor Interior Journal.)

OKLAHOMA, Sept. 26.—Perhaps some of your readers would like to hear of the wonderful country that has just been opened to Oklahoma and the great race into that country. It lies just east of Oklahoma proper and is known as the Kiowa, Sac and Potawatomi reservations. These lands were declared open for settlement Sept. 22. If any of the readers were in the Oklahoma rush they can form some idea of how exciting this race was, only this was more exciting and there were more people at the lines to make the race. It is claimed that over 100,000 people invaded the promised land. The weather was beautiful and the elements propitious to gather out a large crowd. In point of interest, scenes of excitement, the desperate struggle to secure homes in city and country, the desperate chances taken to life and limbs and the great crowd which took part in the race, it will go in history as unexampled.

The crowd began to gather on the lines days before the opening preparing horses and wagons and turnouts of all sorts. As the hour of noon, Tuesday, grew near the excitement intensified, until it became almost uncontrollable, and like greyhounds waiting to be unleashed, the racers with every nerve strained to its utmost tension, awaited the word of command. When the time expired the captain ordered the soldiers to give back and then fired his revolver for the command to go. As the bullet left the muzzle of the pistol, so did the horsemen and those in wagons break to a mad rush. It was indeed a mad, mad rush, one not to be witnessed more than once in a life time and one which set every nerve to throbbing and every drop of blood to tingling. It was every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost. They stopped for nothing; the buggies and wagons that were upset with women and children under them did not attract any attention and stayed not the rush for a second, but they kept putting their spurs and whips to the horses and would run over any one that got in their way. Indians gathered on the lines and seemed to enjoy the race, and as we passed by they greeted us with an old-time war whoop, but they were soon left far behind.

When we arrived, at the town site, which was to be the county seat, we were met there by a troop of cavalrymen, which brought us to a halt, but they had to shoot one horse from under a man in order to check him from going over the line, and stuck a bayonet in another one. The crowd had to dismount and camp there until the next day at 12 o'clock, when Gov. Steele declared the town site ready for settlement. There were between 5,000 and 6,000 people, both men and women, to rush in for town lots, some on horses, others in wagons and the majority afoot, all on the line with sticks in their hands ready to stake her or his lot off as soon as the word was said. The horsemen and wagons were all mixed with those who were going to rush in on foot, and the crowd was divided, part on the north side and part on the south side of the town site. When the order was given to go both sides made for the centre, or court-house square, which is near the centre of the town, in order to get valuable lots, and when they met each other the earth trembled, but no one seemed to care who was hurt. All they wanted was to get a choice lot.

Soon every one quieted down and you could hear moaning and groaning from those who had been run over by the horses. The soldiers began to gather them up. They found four crippled, two badly bruised and three killed. One of the killed was a woman of about 45. A troop of soldiers has been stationed at both county seats to keep peace. There has been but little trouble since the opening.

The land on the rivers and creeks of this new country is fine, while the up-land is covered with timber, but the Indians have taken all the best bottom lands and left the high lands for the pale faces. There is better land in Oklahoma proper than there is in the new country just opened. But it will not be long until the white man will buy out the Indians and this Indian Territory will be the banner State of the Union.

Crops of all kinds are fine here and everything is moving upwards. Men from the East are buying the first settlers out and are improving the country fast.

Oklahoma City is the best town in the Territory. It has 10,000 inhabitants and is improving and building up very fast. It will soon have another railroad and then it will grow wonderfully rapidly, if it keeps building up like it has for the past year. It will soon be the nicest city in the West and will be the capital of Oklahoma some day. Knowing that Old Kentucky is a fine State and my old home, too, I must say Oklahoma is a finer country.

BACK AT COLLEGE.

W. B. W. Writes a Readable Letter to His First Love, the Interior Journal.

ASHLAND, Va., Sept. 26.—With the solicitude which only a school-boy can experience when parting with those exceedingly dear, after having spent a most delightful vacation, I turned my back upon that dear old burg, which to the writer has been the scene of so many enjoyable occasions, and soon was rolling rapidly to another town, which in college-boy parlance has been the scene of many a "bust" and many a "curl."

I shall not weary you with a description of my trip, which has frequently been graphically pictured by abler pens than mine, but I will only supplement what has been written by emphasizing that no tourist should complete his journeying until he has traveled on the F. V. V., over the C. & O. and viewed the grandeur of the Alleghenies.

At 9 o'clock Tuesday evening the brakeman mumbled "Ashland." Just then a sound like the hoarse roar of the breakers upon a rocky beach rose above the jarring of gearing and rumbling of wheels. Then in a half-chanting, wild cadence, the college yell, so familiar to me, burst from the throats of over a hundred boys. I have heard the Indian war-whoop, the Yankee slogan and the Rebel yell, but none of them stimulated such emotions as did this on this occasion. If, indulgent reader, you would like to hear a sample of the college yell, I should respectfully refer you to a noted tooth extractor in Stanford, who became quite an adept under my instructions during this summer, or I will send you a sample copy by return mail.

Ashland, the site of Randolph Macon, is situated immediately upon the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac railroad, upon the most elevated plateau between Richmond and Washington, D. C. On this account the village of Ashland was originally chartered as a summer resort and is much frequented during the heated term, while the comparative infrequency and brief duration of severely cold weather make it especially favorable to health and comfort during the college session. The campus contains about 12 acres and is a fine grove of oaks and maples. The grass, flowers and shrubbery have received great attention and add much to the beauty of the grounds. To the eight dormitories, the Pace lecture-room building, the Duncan Memorial Chapel, the halls of the literary societies and the gymnasium, has been added the Science Hall, for lecture rooms and laboratories for practical work in physics and biology. To the ambitious student, the college offers many inducements, among which are the following prizes: The Southern medal for oratory; the Walton prize for Greek scholarship; the Estill mathematical prize; the Pace prize medal for the best essayist; the Murray medal for the student who has attained the highest average grade during the session, and others too tedious to mention.

Owing to a diphtheria scare, the attendance at college this year is not as great as anticipated.

Yesterday was a beautiful September morning and the sun had risen in all his radiant glow, giving strength and courage to those who were just beginning the duties of another day. But the enchanting scene was not long destined to continue. Fiery clouds soon enveloped the bright, blue sky and a terrific thunder storm ensued. Awed by the threatening hour, the little birds ceased their songs and students gave up their text-books. There was heard an appalling clap of thunder and the lightning broke forth in bright, terrific splendor. The noble old oaks on the campus were tossed to and fro by the wind. A terrified group of students fell on their knees in prayer to God for deliverance. Their prayers were answered for soon there were signs of a break and the Lord pacified the elements. As a result of the electric storm the air was made purer and more wholesome, for all the works of God are founded in wisdom and always answer to some benevolent purpose.

"Then fear not, though the angry sky
A thousand darts should cast,
Why should we tremble e'en to die
And be with Him at last?"

OTTENHEIM is still on a boom. Mr. J. Ottenheimer was here in order to make some new plans and get everything in running order by May 1st. Mr. A. A. McKinney was seen here this week with a lady friend. He had a bright smile on his left cheek.—The farmers are very busy making syrup; good prospect for plenty of molasses. Can put some on both sides of the corn cake.—The lumber for the new school-house is in its place. It is getting time to have it built before cold weather sets in.—Rain is badly needed; dust is three inches deep and if it keeps on in this way for another month we will be obliged to put water works in operation.

—A post-office has been established at Giza, Whitley county, and Lewis W. Kelsey appointed post-master.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—For SALE.—300 ewes. Given & Carter.

—Pierre Lorillard has purchased La Tosca for $20,000.

—The Georgetown Times has notes of sales of 205 stock ewes at $4.50.

—Richard Robinson sold to M. F. Elkin & Co., 3 heifer calves at 2 1/2 cts.

—For SALE.—Three good Jersey milk cows and 4 Jersey calves. Eph Pennington.

—S. T. Harris bought of H. S. Withers a bunch of 1,100-pound feeders at 3 1/2 cts.

—Ten valuable trotters were burned in R. A. Wilson's training stable, near Frankfort.

—Caton & Jones, of Pulaski, sold to William Grimes 12 good 2-year-old cattle at 2 1/2 cts.

—The Stanford Roller mills pay 90 cents for wheat, but there is little doing in the trade.

—Given & Carter bought of various parties in this county a car-load of milk cows at $25 to $32.50.

—A farmer in Lyons county, Ia., has just sold his wheat crop for more than the land on which it grew cost him.

—In Anderson county J. L. Bond bought of George Searcy 100 fat hogs at 4 cents, to be delivered in November.

—The annual coffee crop of the world is estimated at over 11,000,000,000 lbs., worth in first hands over $135,000,000.

—A. C. Dunn sold to James E. Lynn a mare and colt for $75. Mr. Lynn has bought about 25 this year at $50 to $75.

—The tobacco crop in California promises to be a great success and the industry will probably become a profitable one.

—J. C. Carson sold to Joseph Coffey a small bunch of butcher cattle at 2 1/2 cents and to Johnson, of Boyle, a yoke of oxen for $80.

—Kingman, the double Derby winner, only brought $4,600 at auction at Latonia. John Madden, of Lexington, bought him.

—The crops in Southern Russia are a complete failure and the peasantry sees little but starvation before them. There is almost no food in the country.

—There were 800 cattle on the Winchester market Monday, but few public sales were made, 44 of 1,100 pounds brought 3 1/2 and lighter 3 1/2 to 3 1/4, privately.

—Secretary T. Horace Clelland, Jr., has our thanks for invitation to the Fall Meeting of the Marion County Trotting Association, to be held at Lebanon Oct. 7 to 9.

—In Cincinnati shipping cattle good to choice are quoted at 3 1/2 to 5 1/4, butchers 2 1/2 to 4 1/4; best shipping hogs are worth 5.30, sheep are firm at 2 1/2 to 5, lambs 4 to 5 1/2.

—As Administrator of Stamp Turpin I will sell at 10 o'clock, on county court day, a Harkaway stud colt and brood mare; a so an Alderney heifer calf. Richard Robinson.

—The Danville Advocate says that wheat is selling at 90 cents there, with but few crops to be disposed of. J. E. Wright, of Lincoln, sold several bunches of 1,100 pound feeders at 4 to 4 1/2 and 200 stock ewes at $3.50 a head. L. W. Hudson shipped 60 extra sugar mules, purchased in Madison and Boyle, at $160.

—George J. Ballard sold his premium jack, Longfellow, 7 years old, to J. W. Heardon, of Richmond, for $1,400. As an example of intensive farming J. B. Gay raised 24 bushels per acre of rye and sold it at 75 cents per bushel, and immediately after cutting the rye plowed the ground and sowed it in Hungarian grass, which is safely stacked. If this kind of farming were universal the cry of hard times would seldom be heard.—Winchester Democrat.

Logans Creek and Dix River.

—Our genial friend, R. R. Gentry, is making many friends in his canvass for sheriff.—It is exceedingly dry here and for the last week Dix River furnishes the nearest stock water. The rain of Monday night was far from being sufficient to help the water supply much.—The rumor is afloat that one of our young men, who has been in the western portion of the State for two or three years, will return shortly with a bride; and ah! Madam Rumor also tells us that before a great many days the gentleman who has been making his monthly visits here from the Magic City, to see a certain young lady, will come by once more and curtail all his unnecessary expenses by taking her off.—Miss Ella Dunn, one of Bryantville's most charming young ladies, was the guest of Mrs. Ben Gaines the first of the week.—John Hughes has been in this vicinity several days with a big lot of Texas ponies, which he disposed of at $30 to $45. Ben Gaines thought he had a mighty bargain in one of the ponies, which he purchased for $25, but now he finds that it will take a $50 reward to catch her.

—Andy Leach, brother-in-law of Capt. J. W. Carrier, of Rowland, died at Kingsville, Monday, of consumption, aged 47. His remains were interred by the G. A. R., of which he was a member, at Pleasant Point.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Dry weather is preventing wheat sowing.

—Rev. J. W. Masters, of Brodhead, preached here Sunday.

—Road working is progressing; favorably throughout the county.

—Mr. James Reynolds writes from Pittsburgh of the arrival of a girl at his house.

—There is an abundance of fine wild grapes this season. "The woods are full of them."

—Mr. Ad Henderson and Miss Susie Brown, of Laurel, were married last week. They will reside at Faris.

—Mr. John Gentry, aged about 70, died Sunday. He had been in feeble health for a long time and had been gradually sinking for months.

—The school, which was to have begun here under the charge of the Presbyterian Synod, has been postponed until after the public school closes.

—The depot agent here has rigged up one of his telegraph keys, a self-acting "circuit closer," which makes it impossible to "leave your key open."

—For the first time in years the services of the convicted prisoners in jail are being put to use. They are being worked on the streets and roads under the charge of the jailer and marshal.

—Rockcastle farmers are paying more attention each year to the importance and value of fertilizers in their crops, especially wheat. Tons of the article are being used this fall and an increased acreage will be sown this season.

—Mit Frazer, a little son of James Frazer, Pine Hill, while carrying a glass fruit jar, fell, breaking the jar, which severed three fingers from his right hand. The members were replaced and sewn on and all will probably be saved.

—Mr. D. C. Poynter, who lately settled up his indebtedness, has resumed business. He has opened up in his storehouse on the south side of Main street, recently vacated by Wm. Poynter. The latter has opened his stock of groceries in the Andrew Baker store-house.

—Henry and Jim LaRue, the two darlings who broke into Welsh's store at Pine Hill last May, and have since remained in jail here, have been released, the grand jury having found no indictment, the witness not appearing to prosecute. Henry was given 10 days on the streets for having broken jail.

—Elijah Herrin, who is erecting a dwelling at this place for Miss Lizzie Sowder, is a man of many trades. He will turn the house over to the owner completed, having done all of the work himself, from putting in stone foundation, brick chimney, lathing and plastering, the carpenter's work, painting and papering, all done in good shape, tho' Mr. H. doesn't claim to be a painter.

—The police judge fined James Verdin $50 Tuesday on a charge of moon-shining. From the evidence it appears that James McHargue, of Pine Hill, gave Verdin the money to purchase the liquor, which they together drank. Later they procured a jugful and proceeded to have a good time. Verdin walked away with the jug to a place of safety. McHargue, fearing the jug was lost, swore out a writ and had Verdin arrested. McHargue went on Verdin's appeal bond afterward.

—Mrs. Petrarrh, the lady mentioned as having been tried at your place for lunacy, came to this place and staid from Saturday until Monday before going to Stanford. She claimed here that she had been in East Tennessee on a visit to friends and had started on her return to Taylorsville, where she was living with a doctor's family; that she had been sick at Knoxville and paid out what money she had for nurses and doctors. She didn't show any signs of insanity while here. She also mentioned having a married daughter living in Paris, France.

—Dr. Lovell and C. C. Williams were in Middlesboro last week on business. The following Mt. Vernon people are taking in the fall festivities in Louisville: Messrs. F. L. Thompson, Hugh Miller, J. M. Williams, A. Pennington, Robert Young, Dr. J. J. Brown, Jonas McKenzie, Mrs. Belle Burnside, Mrs. G. Coyle, Mrs. M. Lovell, Mrs. R. A. Brown and Miss Mallie Coyle. Mr. W. L. DeGroff, jeweler, has gone to Nashville for a few months. Mr. J. W. Brown has returned to Aransas Harbor, Texas, where one or two years' money making will satisfy him, when he will return to the land of his fathers. Vick Owens, after a 15 days' involuntary rest, has resumed the key at N. Y., (Livingston); Jim Bailey, ditto, nights, 12 days. Mr. W. M. Gay was up from Pine Hill Tuesday. He says his miners have struck again, this time on account of dissatisfaction with the bank boss. It is almost a weekly occurrence with them to strike on some pretext.

—As a matter of economy, the constitutional convention refused to pay two expert penmen to enroll the new constitution and gave the job to Delegate Ramsey, who offered to do it for nothing. This kept the convention in session at least two days longer than necessary. They spent $1,400 to save $200.—Owensboro Messenger.

Notice of Election

Graded School at Crab Orchard.

At a regular term of the Lincoln County Court, held Sept. 18, 1891, Hon. Wallace E. Vernon, Judge, presiding. In the matter of the application of a Graded Free School at Crab Orchard, Kentucky, a petition having been received by the Judge of the Lincoln County Court signed by eighteen citizens who are tax payers and reside in the proposed Graded Free School District, asking that a Graded Free School District be established, the boundary of which is to be a circle extending 1 1/2 miles in every direction from the intersection of the Lancaster, Stanford and Mt. Vernon roads in Crab Orchard.

It is now ordered that J. N. Menefee, Sheriff of Lincoln County, open a poll at the regular voting place in Crab Orchard on the

for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal white voters in said proposed Graded Free School District upon the proposition whether or not they will vote an annual tax, not exceeding sixty cents on one hundred dollars' worth of property assessed in said proposed Free School District belonging to said white persons and a poll tax not exceeding two dollars per capita, on each white male person over 21 years of age residing in the said proposed Graded Free School District, for the purpose of erecting a suitable building and maintaining a good Graded Free School in said proposed Graded Free School District, or for the payment of principal and interest on any such bonds not exceeding four thousand dollars, ($4,000) on the Board of Trustees of proposed Graded Free School District may issue and sell under the provisions of this Act for the purposes aforesaid.

The Massachusetts democrats renominated Gov. Russell and a full State ticket on a platform reaffirming their allegiance to the principles of the party of people as enunciated in its national platform and denouncing the McKinley bill in vigorous terms. It also commends Gov. Russell's administration and demands further State reforms. On the question of silver, they take issue with their free coinage brethren of the West and say: "While we believe in the use of both gold and silver as money, and in the full remonetization of the latter metal by international agreement, we are equally opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver by our government, independent of the action of other nations, and to the dangerous silver legislation enacted at the last session of Congress." On this question the party is divided all over the country and it should not have been forced to the front as a party issue. The democracy everywhere is united on tariff reform and upon that issue alone the next presidential canvass should be made. Abolish the higher-than-war taxes on the necessities of life and the money question will take care of itself.

The new constitution is now in force and it expressly provides that any State, district, city, town or county officer, who shall accept or use a free pass or accept transportation at lower rates than are given the general public, shall forfeit his office. We know fully a score of such officers with railroad passes in their pockets. Will they surrender them or run the risk of having their offices taken away? Most of them, we opine, will run the risk. They had almost as lief have their eye teeth extracted as to give up what they have almost become to regard as vested rights. But the free pass has to go and it is well. Railroad companies do not extend such favors except for a purpose and while the judges and Commonwealth attorneys may not feel that they have accepted a bribe in taking a pass, it is well that the law will hereafter make them avoid even the appearance of evil.

AFTER trying and condemning Public Printer E. Polk Johnson without allowing him a chance to defend himself, the con. con. clapped the climax of its rude and contemptible treatment of him by refusing, on motion of Bronston, of Lexington, to hear a respectful communication from him read in open session. We have not been able to get the Capital this week, but we learn that the colonel goes for Bronston and "the cattle" who sustained him with a vigor worthy of one who has been dispassionately used without cause by men his inferiors in every respect. The whole trouble grew out of the fact that Col. Johnson did not servilely accept everything as gospel that the small men did or said.

The Superior Court has affirmed with damages the judgment against the Louisville Truth, Editor Ben H. Ridgely and his wicked partner, Ike Dinkenspiet, for $500 each, in favor of Will Reed, who they were charged with libeling. This is pretty tough on the boys, but Ridgely at least is all right. He has only to come up to Danville to get all the money he wants, for the nice things he has been printing about that lovely town.

DELEGATE W. R. RAMSEY, of Laurel, who enrolled the new constitution on sheep skin, is said to have done it very handsomely. He writes a splendid hand and the delegates were so proud of the work that they presented him with a silver water service and a fine gold pen. If Mr. Ramsey is ever blessed with posterity he can point them with pride to those distinguished marks of favor and esteem.

A SUPERSTITIOUS card player at Henderson dug up the body of a lady and cut the right forefinger from her hand in order to change his luck. There is perhaps nothing in the superstition, but it seems to have worked perfectly in this case, for the fellow had the good luck to be sent to jail, instead of being killed by the outraged relatives of the deceased lady.

PAT EAGAN, minister to Chili, is doing his best to get up a war between that country and this. The president should never have appointed such an adventurer to so important a position, and if he wishes to maintain the respect of the people he will send for him to come home. This country has had enough of war. Another pension list would bankrupt it.

Bro. Meacham, of the Hopkins, Meacham, tell us whether he is a "Medicated Food" ad. for M. J. dictionary? Unless for S. we will give him a J. S. of disappointment. G. A. T. State treasurer OFFICERS: the school J. S. Hocker, President; John J. McRoberts, Cashier; amount A. A. McKinney, Ass't, the 95-97

AFTER blundering and blustering thro' a life of 13 months, the con. con. was strong in its ruling passion in death. It was painfully demonstrated all along that the members were tyros in grammar and the use of language, but it never occurred to anybody that they didn't know what year this is. They did not, though, as this, written at the bottom of their ranting, will show: "Done at Frankfort the twenty-eighth day of September, in the year of our Lord 1891, and in the ninety-ninth year of our Commonwealth." Every school child knows that this is the 100th year of our Commonwealth, so it will not be necessary for the body to reconvene to make the correction, though very many of the members wish they could be brought back to life.

WHILE $10 a day is not big pay, it is folly to say that the governor will not be able to secure the best lawyers to revise the statutes. We do not suppose there are many better lawyers in the State than Gov. Knott and yet he has been working a year at $5 a day "and board himself," as a member of the late unlamented. There may be $5 a day difference in the honor, but the average lawyer wouldn't look at it in that light. We'll wager our pile that not a single man who has been mentioned for the place would decline appointment because the pay has been cut down $3 a day.

AFTER calling the public-spirited agitators of Topeka, Kan., "short-haired creatures," the editor of the SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL had better keep clear of the Kansas capital.—Louisville Commercial. Thanks for the advice. We have no desire to get nearer to the short-haired, elderly women, with manish aspirations, than we are now. A short-haired woman and a long-haired man are usually the most disgusting people on earth.

Gov. Brown has announced as the commissioners to revise the statutes John D. Carroll, of Henry county; William C. McChord, of Washington, and James C. Sims, of Warren. The first two were members of the con. con. The latter is of the firm of Sims & Covington, Bowling Green. They are all men of fair ability, but are not the cream of the Kentucky bar by any means.

It is so difficult to keep up with politics of Lexington that we have ceased trying to do so. All we know at present is that Maj. H. T. Duncan has withdrawn from the mayoralty race and Claude M. Johnson has shied his castor in the ring for another turn at the honors and emoluments of that office. J. Hull Davidson is another candidate.

The fact that Gov. Brown had some old cannon fired as the con. con. was in articulo mortis made some of the spiteful members believe that he was glad that they were going, and they are madder than ever with him.

The campaign in Ohio is growing red-hot. The democrats are forcing the fighting and with Campbell, Mills and other fine speakers, are giving McKinley and his crowd all and more than they want.

NEWSY NOTES.

—It is officially published that of the 2,100 buildings in Cuesnaga, Spain, before the recent floods, but 600 are left standing.

—Pennington's air ship was blown away during a gale at St. Louis and cannot be found. The ship was valued at $30,000.

—The whisky distillers of Davies county made over 125,000 barrels of whisky last year, the greatest production in the history of the county.

—The Satellites of Mercury had charming weather for their display in Louisville, which was very creditable and witnessed by tens of thousands.

—Madison Todd, of Madison county, was fined $25 and given three months in jail for posting threatening notices on the gate of a man he did not like.

—Millionaire Mackey and party made the trip from San Francisco to New York in 4 days, 12 hours and 28 minutes, four hours the quickest time ever made.

—Joseph McClelland, one of the largest and most popular farmers, horse breeders and mule traders in Bourbon county, dropped dead from heart disease, aged 76.

—A new revolution has broken out in Guatemala and reports of three days' fighting in the streets of the capital, and the killing of 500 of the combatants, have been received.

—Six men were drowned in Lake Superior during a heavy gale, in which the tug, Bertha Endress went down. Storms were general on the Michigan coast Monday night.

—Judge Richards says the earnings of the Louisville Southern for the months of July and August were $18,000 net, sufficient to pay all fixed charges and 2 per cent. on the stock.

—A mob hung Grant White and his sweetheart Lou Stevenson, both colored, at Hollendale, Miss. The woman called Bartender Davis from a saloon and as he stepped out White killed him.

—Mrs. Emma Hoskins, a Henderson boarding-house keeper, was shot dead by Charles Johnson because she had made him leave her house for ungentlemanly conduct. The murderer is still at large.

—Gen. Boulanger shot himself to death at the tomb of his dead mistress at Brussels. She fled with him to England and died of consumption, since which the general has refused to be comforted.

—The case of Mary Ann Dougherty, which was the subject of so much talk during President Cleveland's administration, has been settled, it is to be hoped forever, by granting her a pension of $8 a month.

—Theodore Schwartz, the Louisville banker, was acquitted on a technicality by the Shelby circuit court, of grand larceny and obtaining money under false pretenses, but there are other cases against him.

—W. B. Armistead, of the firm of E. L. Coon & Co., Middlesboro, caught his partner in bed with his wife. He did not shoot him, simply ordered him out and then went and filed suit for divorce against the erring woman.

—Prof. W. K. Argo reports 146 white and 25 colored pupils at the Institute for Deaf and Dumb at Danville. This is a larger attendance than ever before at one time and others are expected, as the fall term has just begun.

—Near Columbus, Ind., while taking a drink of water, John Scott swallowed his false teeth. En route to town for relief the horse ran away, upset the buggy and dislodged the teeth from Scott's throat, but dislocated his right elbow.

—Buck and Bob McAlister and William Gilliland were added to the arrests in Pulaski for numerous robberies. Old Doc Gilliland, father of the two lynched for assassinating Sheriff McHague, has fled the country and the excitement has subsided.

—Ralph Ray, the boy murderer, has been captured at Durango, Colo., and confessed to killing his mother with a hatchet because she chastised him. He stated that after killing her he wrapped her in a blanket, mounted a horse and started for Mexico.

—The Kentucky Savings Bank, of Louisville, of which Maj. Tillman was president, has gone into liquidation. Its capital is $100,000 and its deposits $30,000. The depositors will be paid on demand and the stockholders will get dollar for dollar for their stock.

—A colored woman was hung at Smithville, Va., for drowning her eight-year-old child. Her defense was that she could not obtain work to support herself and child. If she hadn't been a negro, it's dollars to cents that she would not have been hung.

—A dispatch from Austin, Tex., says several barrels of honey were found stored in the heroic bronze head of the statue of Liberty that stands more than 300 feet from the earth on the dome of the capitol by the busy little bees that swarm in and out of the nasal apertures.

—Henry Jandorf, a young white man sentenced to a year's imprisonment in the Albany penitentiary for compelling his young wife to live in a notorious house, was killed in the District of Columbia jail by Samuel Moore, a negro desperado, who is serving a term for assault on his wife.

—King Bird, a negro convict, deliberately thrust his hand in the machinery of a broom mill at the Frankfort penitentiary and had it torn off up to the wrist, to keep from work. He is a very desperate fellow, having killed one and badly wounded another convict since he has been confined.

—A freight and a passenger train crowded with excursionists on the N. Y. P. & O., collided near Kent, O., while the trains were crossing a fill "and bridge. The cars were demolished and the wreckage took fire from the stoves. Three persons were taken out dead, three were fatally hurt and 21 others were more or less seriously injured.

—The commissioner of the general land office reports there are yet remaining 579,664,633 acres of unoccupied public lands. East of the Mississippi there are, in Alabama, 947,310; in Florida, 3,468,381; in Michigan, 781,816; in Mississippi, 1,201,280. Louisiana, almost as old as the century, has public lands yet unentered, to the extent of 1,243,118 acres. Missouri, admitted as a State in 1821, has 1,028,898 acres. Montana has the most vacant lands in her limits—74,372,769 acres.

Some of the more important changes in the constitution adopted by the people made by the convention is thus summarized by the Lexington Leader: The making elective of the members of the Railroad Commission, and making the Librarian elective by the Legislature instead of appointive by the Governor. Rendering ineligible to the succeeding term the following State officers: Auditor, treasurer, superintendent of public instruction, attorney general, clerk of the court of appeals and register of lands but this provision does not apply to those now in office. Allowing special legislation on questions of local option, county roads and bridges, public improvements, education, paupers, etc. Allowing sheriffs now in office for their first terms and those elected for their first terms at the election of 1893 to be re-elected, but thereafter no sheriff shall be eligible to succeed himself. Changes in the date at which municipal elections shall occur, etc. These named changes, of course, do not include the hundreds of changes of verbiage.

—Nancy Hanks trotted a mile at Richmond, Ind., Wednesday, in 2:09, within 1 of a second of Maud S.'s record, 2:08.

HUBBLE.

—Thomas Smith will take a trip soon through Iowa. J. C. Eubanks & Bro., sold 100 barrels of corn at the crib to Tom Walker, of Lancaster, at $3.—S. Dunbar is fixing to move into a cabin in his yard till he can make other arrangements. "No place like home." Rankin & McKechnie Bros., bought about 50 mules in this vicinity at an average cost of about $58.—As we don't get the I. J. till they are almost a week old, it is no use to gather items for its columns, as all will be heard and forgotten before our peepers will be placed in its newsy form.—Mrs. Ed Miller tells us they have a hog that, when allowed to run with the cattle, sucks the milk cows dry. Jas. E. McClure, president of the bank in Montrose, Colorado, is visiting relatives here. Ran Smith is improving slowly.—Colored folks are having a protracted meeting here now.—Hauling water is the business of the day now. A dry town here sure.—It is to be hoped that the court of claims will take notice of some of our allowances, which are 5 times as large as they ought to be.—Our I. J. come by Danville and always get here a day later than formerly.—Bro. Montgomery will preach at the school-house Sunday night.

The Q. & C.—Reduced rates on the certificate plan have been granted by the Queen & Crescent route for the following occasions. For information as to rates, tickets, etc., apply to ticket agents.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Mrs. W. G. Welch went to Louisville Wednesday.

Miss Sallie McRoberts has been quite sick this week.

Mr. S. M. Owens has gone to Louisville to have his eyes treated.

Mr. Joe Severance and Sam Walton went to Louisville Wednesday.

Miss Ella Dunn, of Bryantville, is visiting Miss Annie Baughman.

John Pearl, of London, was a passenger on yesterday's southbound train.

Mrs. W. P. Givens returned from a visit to relatives in Bourbon, Wednesday.

Mr. A. T. Martin has returned from Hot Springs in better health than for years.

John A. McRoberts has resigned as assistant depot agent and B. H. Fish has been appointed in his stead.

Mrs. A. E. Hundley, of Boyle, is spending a few days at Mr. Robert McAlister's.

Miss Jessie Brown and Mr. W. Bailey Hill were the attendants at the Hill-Johnston wedding.

Mr. Logan Denny has the honor of escorting Danville's Maid of Honor, Miss Martha Batterton, at the Satellites ball.

Mr. J. M. Hill and his pretty young wife will entertain a number of their friends, at their home, Saturday evening.

Mr. L. H. Ramsey and wife, who have been spending a few days with his parents here, returned to Lexington yesterday.

Little Lucy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hall, who has been so ill with diphtheria, was reported better yesterday.

Mr. R. C. Warren took Miss Marie to Louisville to enter Miss Hamilton's school. She will board with her aunt, Mrs. Dr. Holloway.

The record shows that W. H. Cheppu, the well-known book maker, who failed at Lexington this week, had mortgaged his farm, of 222 acres, which cost $30,569, for $75,458.80.

Among those who went to Louisville Tuesday were Mrs. Lizzie McAlister, Mrs. R. S. Lytle, Misses Josie and Mattie Bosley, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. L. B. Cook, Misses Jeanie Feland and Montie Harris.

Mr. Joshua Stone, of the 6th auditor's office, Washington, is visiting his folks at Liberty and was up with his brother, Mr. W. S. Stone, this week. He is looking first rate, even if he is a very lonesome democrat in the departments.

Hon. W. H. Miller is back from his labors as a constitution maker. While we took friendly issue with him on a number of points, we are willing to accord him his full degree of praise and say that if some of the reforms he advocated had been adopted it would have been better for the constitution.

CITY AND VICINITY.

MINSTRELS at the Opera House tonight.

JUNE and September proved the hottest months in the year.

BEAUTIFUL line of glassware just received at A. A. Warren's Model Grocery.

M. N. EARLY's shoe shop at Rowland was broken into Tuesday night and several pairs of shoes are missing.

NICE new line of lamps, glassware and very handsome line of chamber sets just received at Farris & Hardin's.

THE railroad boarding-house at Rowland is now kept by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cooley, Mr. and Mrs. A. Underwood having tired of the business.

FOR SALE.—Good frame house of four rooms with half acre lot attached. Conveniently located in Stanford. Cistern and necessary outbuildings. Apply to W. A. Tribble.

SHAKE UP.—Master of Transportation Evans and Master of Machinery Leeds were at Rowland Wednesday and shook things up generally. There were a number of requests for resignations and some firing indulged in.

THE Joint Colored Teachers' Association, composed of the counties of Boyle, Garrard and Lincoln, will hold their next meeting at Stanford Oct. 10, in the colored Baptist church. Their programme is an interesting one. Wm. D. Tardif, ch'n com.

It is a source of much regret to the many friends that he has made here that Mr. J. T. Waller, master mechanic at Rowland, will leave us. He is a clever, agreeable gentleman and our good wishes will follow him wherever he goes. Dennis Kelley, who used to be passenger engineer on this division, will succeed him.

New mixed and straight pickles at A. A. Warren's.

SEE our new line of sacking flannels. Severance & Son.

COME and see our new cloaks just opened. Severance & Son.

THE Boston Ideals to-night. Come in to the parade this afternoon and stay to the performance.

REMEMBER the date. Dr. Rea, the Louisville specialist will be at the Myers House, Friday, Oct. 2d.

I HAVE a lot of binder twine suitable for tying fodder shocks with. I will sell cheap. Joe Severance, Jr.

DON'T fail to see our line of ladies' misses' and children's cloaks. They are second to none in style, quality and price. Severance & Son.

THE first rain for several weeks fell Monday night, but it was not sufficient to do more than lay the dust well and cool the parched atmosphere.

THE Boston Ideal Minstrels at Walton's Opera House, this, Friday night. They promise a good show, splendid music and many novelties. Don't fail to see them.

FREIGHT train No. 90 on the Cumberland Valley branch jumped the track near Corbin Wednesday afternoon and made kindling wood out of four cars. Nobody was hurt.

HENRY HELTON, of Woodbine, a passenger on yesterday's south-bound train, jumped off the last coach while the train was nearing Junction City and had his left shoulder dislocated. He was under the influence of liquor.

A DISPATCH says that an unsigned note was thrust under the door of the Advocate office, saying that if the negro Pomp Bates was sent to the penitentiary the property of Danville citizens would suffer. The threat is not regarded with much alarm. The resident negroes have too much sense to attempt violence even if they desired.

THE Owensboro Messenger is satisfied that typhoid fever is caused by drinking well water. In Louisville, where the disease is prevalent, there are 653 public wells and probably thousands of private ones in daily use in that city. So long as well water was used in Owensboro, the town was notorious for typhoid fever. With the abandonment of well water the disease became rare there.

THE Lexington Leader says a smooth rascal worked a number of ladies in that city by taking cash subscriptions for Century Magazine at a reduced price, with the further advantage of securing other periodicals at a like reduction.

Mrs. G. G. Helm, late of this county, was one of the victims. Beware of agents. Outwardly they are meek and lowly as lambs, while inwardly they are roaring wolves, going about seeking whom they may play for suckers.

THE Courier-Journal has this of one not unknown to fame here: "The Rev." Joe Munday, the actor-preacher, who a few years ago "evangelized" in Louisville, has bobbed up in Morganfield as a "dead game sport." Sunday he preached to about $50 at Henderson and yesterday he wanted to play pool at $10 a side. He handled his cue too deftly for the Morganfield boys, however, and left the place for fresher fields, gloriously drunk.

BOYLE CIRCUIT COURT.—The trial of Pompey Bates, for the murder of Marshal Wells, at Junction City, resulted in a verdict for life. The last court gave him 21 years, but the Court of Appeals reversed the judgment because Wells was not a regularly qualified officer. It was a Pulaski jury that did the business and it is to be hoped their verdict will stand, but it is not likely the Court of Appeals will permit it. The other negro, George Word, for the same offense, is now on trial, a jury having been obtained from Casey. Isaac Shelby, Jr.'s, trial, for killing Lingenfelt, was continued till next court.

MR. H. R. SAULEY, who has suffered with the dropsy for the last year, compelling him for the first time in his long life to go to bed from sickness, managed to walk to our office Tuesday. His legs are still much swollen and he uses them with difficulty, but he is much improved in general health. He tells us that he was born in Wythe county, Va., Nov. 18, 1811, which will make him in a short time four-score years of age. He came to Kentucky with his parents when he was 17 and they located in Cumberland county. Mr. Sauley staid with them there several years, when he moved to Monticello and went into the mercantile business. It was there he met the girl who was destined to become his wife, and they were married May 26, 1837. Mrs. Sauley was Miss Emily Chrisman and she was a sister of the late Congressman, J. S. Chrisman, and Circuit Clerk Mike Chrisman, of Boyle. She was born Oct. 25, 1821, and was but little over sixteen when she married. Seven children were born to them, only three, Judge Micah C. Sauley, Mrs. C. E. Cox and Mrs. Dr. Grady, surviving. If the good old couple live till next May they will have traveled the journey of life together 55 years, a longer period than falls to the lot of one couple in 10,000.

GEO. BENEDICT, while trying to ride a Texas pony on Pence's track yesterday was thrown and badly hurt. He was unconscious when assistance arrived.

It is claimed that the bird law, which does not expire till the 20th of this month, is already being broken. Hunters should remember that it is a fine of $3 for each bird killed and they might save themselves a few dollars and give the birds a chance by postponing that pleasure a week or so.

THE Courier-Journal has interviewed a Pulaski man, who says the Gilliland gang has been robbing and counterfeiting for 40 years and that people belong to it who are apparently above suspicion. Two or three of these were wealthy and prominent citizens of a Bluegrass county, two of them were bankers in another State and one of them is now a wealthy and well-known minister of the gospel in Missouri. The Pulaski man also says that Augden Bridgewater, of this county, was a member of the gang for years, but has reformed and is now a good citizen.

A very pleasing entertainment in the shape of a "Lawn Party" was given by the Misses Owsley on Wednesday evening to their guests, Misses Underwood and McElwain. Only the very immediate friends of the young ladies were invited, but they composed a charming party of 18 or 20 couples and spent a most delightful evening. A new game, known as "Quotations," was engaged in and the winners of the prizes offered were Miss Annie Alcorn and Dr. A. S. Price. At the proper time a much-enjoyed lunch was served and for the second time within a few weeks elegantly entertained guests left the home of the Misses Owsley with reluctance akin to sorrow.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—A Southern Kentucky paper speaking of several approaching marriages in its own county says: "The girls are ordering their trousseaus in Nashville and are very shy about it." No wonder. What respectable girl would want anybody to know that she wears trousseaus?

—Miss Bertia, the pretty daughter of Squire M. S. Bastin, of the Highland neighborhood, left home a few days ago under the pretense of going to Pittsburg to visit relatives. She was joined on the route, however, by Mr. Elbert Evans, of Laure County, and going to Jellico they were joined heart and hand.

—When King Kalikaua visited Kentucky to buy trotters, he brought with him young W. T. Monsarrat and left him to be educated at the Kentucky University. During his sojourn in Lexington he met the accomplished Miss Elizabeth Jones and Tuesday they were married in gorgeous style. Among the bridal gifts was a diamond necklace from the Queen of the Sandwich Islands.

—Mr. John M. Hill went to Louisville Wednesday, where he and Miss Jennie Johnston, who with a party had preceded him, were made husband and wife. The bride is a daughter of Mr. D. S. Johnston, of Hustonville, and is said to be unusually pretty and amiable, while Mr. Hill is a sober, industrious and popular young farmer, who has accumulated a sufficiency to take care of a wife as she should be. May happiness and good fortune ever attend them.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The Jewish New Year 5652 occurs to-day.

—Eld. J. G. Livingston is holding a meeting at Woodbine, which resulted in 18 confessions the first week.

—Elders Neal and Lowery held a two-weeks' meeting at the Antioch Christian church, Clark county, which resulted in 31 additions.

—Rev. W. Y. Sheppard will preach Odd Fellows Hall here Sunday afternoon at 3:30, after which the Holy Communion will be celebrated.

—Rev. Mark Collis has been called to the pastorate of the Broadway Christian church, Lexington, made vacant by the resignation of Dr. Bartholomew, at $2,400 a year.

—The old Methodist church at Lawrenceburg, built in 1844, has been razed and on its site, the News says, a building 40x60 feet, with a seating capacity of 300, is being built. The contract price is $3,000.

—The Georgia "evangelists," Small and Jones, have been ordered to appear before the grand jury at Rome, Ga. At a recent revival there they made so many charges of official corruption that they will be given an opportunity to prove them.

—The only woman whom the Universalist Church of Massachusetts has ordained to the ministry in the present century is Mrs. E. M. Bruce. The ordination ceremonies were held last Sunday in the Wayside Chapel, Maplewood, Malden, which was built several months ago by Mrs. Bruce. The lady applied for ordination some 12 years ago, and was refused by the Universalist Convention, but recently applied again and was accepted.

—The meeting at the Presbyterian church, which has been in progress for about a month, was to have closed last night. It is hoped that much good has been done. Rev. L. O. Spencer, who has done the preaching for the last two weeks, has used argument, eloquence and persuasion to make sinners flee from the error of their way and he will go away with a clear conscience of having done his full duty.

BRODHEAD.—Dr. P. Behton and family have returned from Louisville, where they have resided for some time. They have taken rooms at Albright's new hotel. Mrs. B. has been in rather bad health. She is using our fine medical water and is feeling much better already. Rev. G. C. Smith preached four discourses last week at the Baptist church. He is a young preacher, but the people seem to be well pleased with him. Mrs. Martha Albright, accompanied by her son, A. E. Albright, has gone to Bee Lick to see her daughter, Mrs. S. C. Perkins, who is in bad health. Joseph Persell and M. G. Durham have just returned from Lancaster, where they sold a nice bunch of cattle. Mr. C. D. Walker, of Lancaster, and James Boggs, of Hyden, are stopping at the Albright House. Dr. I. S. Burdett is treating their eyes for granulated lids. The doctor has cured many cases that noted oculists have failed to cure and gave them up as incurable.

Mrs. J. H. Hiltz and children, of Rowland, spent a few days this week with her parents, J. E. and Jane Woodyard. Mr. Thomas Cherry has gone to Cincinnati on a business trip. Rev. L. P. Johnson started a short time ago for Oklahoma and at some point in Indiana he was robbed of over $400. He became suspicious of three men and thought he would put his money in a more secure place. Just as he drew out his pocket book a man snatched it from him and handed it to another man and he to the third man. One man drew his pistol and told him to stand and not say a word. About that time the train stopped and the men got off and hid themselves in the darkness of the night. Mrs. Bettie Frith and children have gone on a visit in Lincoln and Garrard counties.
